2 Principles

- 2.1 No learner will be disadvantaged by the digital learning environment at Ara.
- 2.2 Wireless internet connection and other relevant infrastructure (for example, availability of and accessibility to power points) will be sufficient to support BYOD devices across campuses where BYOD is utilised.
- 2.3 Learners and lecturers will be supported in the use of the technologies required for delivering contemporary learning experiences.

3 Associated Procedures for Ara Academic Policy on: Bring Your Own Device

Contents: 3.1 General Provisions

- 3.2 BYOD User Responsibilities
- 3.3 Department Responsibilities, where BYOD is compulsory

3.1 General Provisions

- a BYOD is to be implemented as a recommendation to the learners rather than as a compulsory requirement.
- b BYOD may be made compulsory in programmes where such a requirement supports learning and/or the future success of learners.

3.2 BYOD User Responsibilities

- a All users of BYOD must adhere to the Code of Conduct for ICT users.
- b BYOD are the property of the individual, and each user is responsible for his/her own device and should use it responsibly and appropriately.
- c Ara takes no responsibility for stolen, lost, or damaged devices, including lost or corrupted data on those devices.
- d While Ara employees might help learners identify how to keep personal devices secure, learners will have the final responsibility for securing their personal devices.

3.3 BYOD Support

a BYOD software support will be available on all campuses for Ara-required software.

3.4 Department Responsibilities, where BYOD is compulsory

- a The BYOD requirement will be communicated to prospective learners prior to the commencement of a programme.
- b The use of BYOD will be incorporated into lesson planning and delivery.
- A departmental plan must be in place to address issues of equity, including financial hardship, competence, and off-campus access to the Internet.
