1 Introduction

1.1 Purpose

In times of emergency, critical maintenance, or public holidays, there may be cause to close and secure all or some of the buildings or property belonging to Ara Institute of Canterbury¹. During such occasions, emergency and security systems and procedures designed for occupant or property safety may be isolated or otherwise ineffective. Some or all emergency escape routes may be locked and no longer accessible. Unauthorised entry under such conditions will be hazardous and is therefore prohibited.

1.2 Scope and Application

This policy applies to all staff, students, contractors and visitors of Ara.

1.3 Formal Delegations

- a Obligations are outlined in the Health and Safety in Employment Act 1992, Building Act 2004, Fire Service Act 1975, The Fire Safety and Evacuation of Buildings Regulations 2006, and the individual building (those belonging to Ara) approved Fire Evacuation Schemes.
- b Under the State Sector Act 1988, the Chief Executive (CE) (as the employer) is responsible for ensuring compliance with the Health and Safety Act. The Health and Safety Act (s 16) stipulates that the person controlling a place of work must take all practicable steps to ensure that hazards are managed so that they do not cause harm to employees, contractors, sub-contractors, customers or members of the public. Further, s19 of the Act states that all employees have a legal obligation to take all practicable steps to ensure their own safety while at work and that no action or inaction while at work causes harm to another person.
- c At Ara, all managers are responsible for ensuring good health and safety practices are followed within their areas and activities under their responsibility.
- d The Ara Health and Safety Manager acts as advisor on health and safety matters and helps to promote and manage relevant policies and practices.

2 Principles

- 2.1 In times of emergency, critical maintenance, or public holidays, there may be cause to close part or all of the property or buildings belonging to Ara.
- 2.2 During such occasions, emergency and security systems and procedures designed for occupant or property safety may be isolated or otherwise ineffective. Some or all emergency escape routes may be locked and no longer accessible. Unauthorised entry under such conditions will be hazardous and is therefore prohibited.
- 2.3 The decision to close Ara and/or cancel classes will be made by the CE or delegate, in consultation with the Director, Facilities Management or delegate. The decision is expected to be associated with issues of health, safety or security for students and staff.

3.1 Initiation of Closure

The decision to close Ara and/or cancel classes will be made by the CE or delegate, in consultation with the Director, Facilities Management or delegate. The decision is expected to be associated with issues of health, safety or security for students and staff.

In a city-wide or national emergency, Ara management are expected to work with any agency given executive authority.

3.2 Levels of Closure

There are three different levels of closure that will be considered on each occasion:

- Partial site/s closure, with some or all of the students and staff vacating the premises.
- Cancellation of some or all classes, with or without all staff vacating the premises.
- Closure of entire site/s, with all students and staff vacating the premises.

Depending on the reason for and level of closure, staff may be required to stay on site and undertake other duties, even if classes are cancelled. This decision will be communicated to staff via their manager, on directive from the CE or delegate.

3.3 Shutdown

Controlled shutdown of building systems and plant, eg refrigeration, will be managed by Facilities Management in consultation with Departments. Departments requiring secure or specialised storage facilities must develop contingencies in consultation with the Director, Facilities Management.

3.4 Communication

- a A folder containing the Incident Management Plan and other relevant documents (eg the Business Resumption plans) will be kept in the CE's office with duplicate copies in the office of the Director, Facilities Management, the Security Office in the Rakaia Centre, and the central administration area at Sullivan Avenue. Electronic copies of the documents will also be kept on the Infoweb within the Facilities Management section.
- b Facilities Management will provide pre-prepared notices for doors, with relevant details filled in as appropriate to the specific situation. The notices will clearly define the scope of the closure, the reason for the closure and the levels of staff/students affected. A team of "runners", reporting to Facilities Management, will be identified to distribute the notices.
- c Marketing are responsible for a communication plan which will be formulated and updated regularly. The plan will include a site map and a prioritised list of the areas which need to be briefed individually, as soon as a decision to close has been made. The plan will identify the communication channels to be used for communicating a closure event and the decision to reopen to staff and students.
- d The Contact Centre will switch their service to an external telephone agency if an emergency closure occurs.

3.5 Reoccupation

Reoccupation of buildings will be controlled by Security staff under the direction of Facilities Management. IT, heating, safety and security systems will be reinstated before a general
